THE REPUBLICAN NATIONAL CON-VENTION.

A National Convention of the Republican party will meet at Chicago, Wednesday, the 23d of June next, for the nomination of candidates to be supported for President and Vice President at the next election.

Republicans, and all who will co-operate with them in supporting the nominee of the party, are invited to choose two delegates from each Congressional District, four at large from each State, two from each Territory, and two from the District of Columbia, to represent them in the Convention.

J. D. CAMERON, Chairman.
THOMAS B. KEOGH, Secretary.

REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION.

ROOMS OF THE REPUBLICAN STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE, MILWAUKEE, February 12, 1880

A State Convention of delegates representing the Republican party of Wisconsin, and of all who will co-operate with them in supporting the nominee of the party, is hereby called to meet at the Capitol in Madison, at twelve o'clock M., on Wednesday, May 27th, 1880, for the purpose of placing in nomination an electoral ticket of ten electors to be supported by the party at the next Presidential election, and also to select twenty delegates, (two from each Congressional District and four from the State at large), to represent the Republican party of Wisconsin in the National Republican Convention, which is called to meet at Chicago on the 23d day of June, A. D. 1880, and to transact such other business as may be deemed necessary.

Each Senate and Assembly District is entitled to two delegates in the Convention.

Solemn silence seems to reign at Menlo Park. The wizzard is no longer playing with the gas stocks of the world.

Congressman Williams made an argument on Wednesday before the House Committee on Commerce in favor of the reservoir system especially urging the building of the Horicon dam:

If it is true that Mr. Tilden has secured five hundred rooms at Cincinnati, has he been so thoughtful as to make the proper arrangements with the distilleries? To the average Democrat this is of more importance than hotel room.

Every Democrat of the West who goes to New York and visits Upper Alley, sees the sage, examines the advertising bureau, and gets a peep at the barrel, invariably returns home firmly impressed with the belief that Tilden will be nominated.

General Halbert E. Paine, of this State, Commissioner of Patents at Washington, has resigned his office on the ground that the duties of the position were wearisome and distasteful to him. He prefers his law practice, and only accepted the office when it was pressed upon him.

What is really wanted by the Democrats beside a pretty full barrel, is a gifted strategy, a brilliant political scrobbler, a man who can be on all sides of all questions at the same time; one who was for war and was not, who in finance is hard and soft or anything to please the people most. Such a one can find employment at Cincinnati.

Another difference between the Republican and the Democratic situation is this: While some Republicans prefer Blaine, others Grant, and quite a number desire Washington, there are exceedingly few who will not stand by the nominee of the Chicago Convention. On the other hand, the Democrats can not nominate a man who will wipe out the strife and bitterness that exists in the party.

The present indications point almost unmistakably to the fact that Mrs. Belys Lockwood, the Washington lawyer, will get the advantage of Senator Ben Hill.
She will follow him with a bitterness that knows of no relenting until her victim is completely crushed. She has the courage to carry on her work, and the ability to make success certain. She is collecting many valuable letters, and by the time Ben Hill is ready to begin "these proceedings" against her, she will be prepared to meet him in a way that will surprise Hill and astonish the nation.

The condition of things in the Democratic party is about this: If the party nominates Mr. Tilden, there will be boling in New York, and a secession of independent voters everywhere. If it nominates any conspicuous rival of Mr. Tilden, the candidate will be stabbed under the fifth rib by the friends of Tilden. And if some outside candidate should be fastened upon the party through the influence of Mr. Tilden, then the leading Democratic politicians of New York State, and the leading party newspapers in the city of New York, will serve notice upon the cipher clique that there will be trouble in that State, which will result in defeat.

The proper way to settle the Washburn-Donnelly matter is suggested by a Minneapolis paper, and is to let the House of Representatives simply unseat Mr. Washburn, refuse to seat Donnelly, and order a new election. If this should be done there would be an interesting campaign in the Minneapolis district. The people there would like to have an opportunity to settle that question and at the same time they would settle the political ambition of Igna-tus Donnelly. Washburn's majority would be more than doubled, and not a dollar would be expended in the contest, and not a vote solicited. The spontaneous uprising of the people to rebuke the greatest of all political frauds—Greenback-Democrat-Labor-Reform Donnelly—would be an interesting exhibition. If the Democrats want to place the settlement of this question in proper hands, let them refer it to the people of the Third District of Minnesota.

The Lincoln, Rutland, and Stamford, (Eng.) Mercury, of the 27th of February, gives a very full account of the mortality among sheep in various parts of England.
In many shires the loss has been wonderful, and yet the rot is still spreading with fearful rapidity. One writer to the Mercury says he questions much if 1000 sheep are left from Bristol to Highbridge, where usually 50,000 are wintered. The loss so far foots up tens of thousands and there is no hope that the disease can be checked.
This being the case, this year's clipping will be very light compared with that of previous years. Those who have paid considerable attention to the wool trade predict that this fearful mortality among the sheep in England, will cause a material advance in the price of wool in this country. Whether or not this prediction will prove true, can only be told when the wool season opens. We very much doubt if the loss of one or two hundred thousand sheep in England, will contribute in any striking extent to advance the price of wool in the United States.
Professed judges, however, say it will. It is estimated that England will lose eight-tens of her sheep this year.

The Gazette has received from the National Blaine Club, of Washington, a circular which gives the progress of the campaign, and articles, the object of which is to show that Mr. Blaine is not only the best and the strongest man the party can nominate, but that he will receive the nomination at Chicago. In 1876, Mr.
Blaine received on the seventh and last ballot, 351 votes, and the Blaine Club estimates that he will receive 359 votes on the first ballot at Chicago. But in order to reach these figures, Wisconsin is reported solid for him, New York is made to contribute fifteen votes for him, and Pennsylvania is held responsible for twenty, and Indiana, twenty-eight. Massachusetts, which never had any particular friendship for the Plumed Knight of the United States Senate, is made to give him ten of her twenty six votes. In this way the first ballot is made to result in 351 votes for him. But this lacks twenty votes of a nomination, and to show that he will be secure enough to give him the prize, the Club asserts that on the second ballot, Ohio and Vermont will give him fifty-four votes, more than enough to secure his nomination. The managers of the Club predict that other States will give their votes to him on the second ballot, and that should General Grant withdraw as many think he will, that Mr. Blaine will receive the nomination on the first ballot. We give these speculations for what they are worth.

The German Puzzle.
From the Manchester (N. H.) Mirror.
The following somewhat simple puzzle has been furnished us by a gentleman of this city:

The object of the puzzle is to place three articles of a kind on the lines marked "A," and three of a kind on the "B" lines, with a blank line between. Take for instance, silver, dimes and 1-cent pieces. Place the dimes on the "A" lines, and the cent pieces on the "B" lines. Now change the cent pieces to the "A" lines, and vice versa, by advancing directly forward, either moving to the next unoccupied line, or jumping a coin over one another (and only one at a time) of the opposite kind.
Continue until the dimes and the cents have changed places, and are in regular order one above the other. There can be no retreating; the moves must all be made forward.

Convicted by a Dream.

A friend who lived in the country had for some time past been missing various things. That there was a thief in the house could not be doubted, but who it was, it was impossible to find out. Bread, meat, butter, bottles of wine, etc., all disappeared in the most unaccountable manner, and always in the night. That one of the servants let the house at night was an ascertained fact, and it was equally certain that no one entered from without.
How then were the articles conveyed away? And by whom? These were questions which puzzled Mrs. M.—and caused her a good deal of anxiety.

At last she dreamed one night that she was standing in the garden, and looking toward the house, she saw in the moonlight a man's figure glide up the avenue, and stand under the window of one of the servants' rooms. Presently the window was softly opened, and a basket well filled with provisions was let down by a rope.
The person below untied the basket, and quickly disappeared among the surrounding trees. The rope was then drawn up again, and the window very gently closed.

On waking next morning Mrs. M.—told her husband of her strange dream. It made such an impression on her that at length she persuaded her husband to watch in the garden that night. So accordingly he and one of his sons stationed themselves in a little summer house in the garden which commanded a view of the window. I may as well mention that neither of them had the least faith in any kind of dreams or visions. What then was their astonishment when they beheld the very figure described by Mrs. M.—glide up the avenue and stand under the window, all exactly as she had told them.
Before, however, the man had time to make off, they rushed out and seized him.
He was brought into the house, and the police were sent for. They immediately recognized him as a very bad character, a returned convict, a wretched woman abuser, who was partner in guilt, was his mother. They were both tried, at the next assizes, and punished as they deserved.

A BRILLIANT BANQUET

Given to General Grant by the Citizens of Galveston.

GALVESTON, Texas, March 24.—The citizens of Galveston gave a grand banquet to General Grant to-night, beginning at 9 o'clock. It took place at the Tremont House. Over 200 leading citizens were present, and the whole affair was most brilliant in every respect. The sentiment expressed by all the speakers was most flattering to General Grant.

After the first hour Mayor Leonard rose and said that he spoke the sentiments of all Galveston when he said they welcomed General Grant to night. They all loved and honored him, and were glad he had come, even at a great inconvenience to himself and family.

General Grant responded as follows: GENTLEMEN OF GALVESTON: I am very much obliged to one and all of you for the kind reception I have received at your hands, and at the hands of all the citizens of this place. I assure you that it affords me very great pleasure to be here on this be deferred until next winter, when the present Congress will be still in power; the Presidential election will be over, and the Democrats will then know just how much they lack to accomplish a purpose.

DEBATE OF LAST SESSION ON THE FEDERAL ELECTION REVISION--WILLIAMS, OF WISCONSIN, AGAINST COMPROMISING.

A debate of more than ordinary interest sprang up in the House on Friday last, on the question of appropriations for the pay of Marshals and Deputy Marshals, in the execution of their duties, under the Federal election laws. The debate on these laws lasted for three months at the last session; but the Republicans, although in the minority, maintained their ground against the attempted repeal, or multiplication of the election laws, persistently contended for by the Democratic majority. The same subject has been up again this session. Mr. Garfield, of Ohio, a leader in the Republican ranks, whether wisely or unwisely, yielded one of the provisions of the law, which had been so long in controversy, much to the satisfaction of the Democrats, but which did not meet the general approval of his Republican associates.

Mr. Williams, of Wisconsin, took this opportunity on the impulse of the occasion, to express his unalterable opposition to the proposed compromise of Mr. Garfield. He declared in language eloquent and forcible the necessity of the law, and the enforcement of law, had been the precursor of outrage, blood and death. The history of violated rights, had during the last few years, shocked heaven, and should shame mankind. The speech of Mr. Williams, during the time allotted him, was a more than ordinary exhibition of the power of words, enforced by impassioned eloquence. It is a matter of political history, that compromising and yielding, on the part of the Republicans in past years, has been a losing business; it has lost them the United States Senate, which but for compromising would be Republican to-day.

ROGER A. PRYOR, OF VIRGINIA, AND HON. J. F. POTTER, OF WIS.

Roger A. Pryor, of Virginia, had his disabilities removed on Wednesday last. The name of Pryor brings to recollection a little scrap of history. Some twenty years ago, everybody in Wisconsin, was familiar with the name of Roger A. Pryor, and the incident which gave him notoriety. In 1860, he challenged Hon. John F. Potter, of Wisconsin, to fight a duel; both were then members of Congress. The choice of weapons fell to Potter--he chose bowie knives. Pryor, however, when Pryor was informed of the proposed weapons, his chivalry was suddenly cooled, his passion for fight extinguished. No further action was taken in the matter of the challenge. Pryor has been under the ban of disfranchisement, since the rebellion, until Wednesday last, as before stated. But like other rebels of his class who have had their disabilities taken away, he will be no less a rebel still.

When the news reached Wisconsin that Potter had frightened his challenger, by the proposal of such terrific weapons, it created quite a sensation throughout the State. Mr. Potter retired from the field of active politics, some fifteen years ago, and has been residing on his farm, in the town of Troy, Walworth county, Wis., much respected by the people of that town and vicinity. He is a modest gentleman, and about the last man who would be suspected of fighting propensities. He has never been known to speak of the affair between Pryor and himself, except when drawn into it by curious inquiries. Mr. Potter was a representative in Congress from what was then called the Milwaukee district, from 1857 to 1863. He is a man of fine education, a good lawyer, and his career in Congress was one of marked ability.

Dr. V. CLARENCE PRICE Visited Janesville EIGHTEEN YEARS.

HAS met with unparalleled success in the treatment of all Chronic Diseases - OF THE - THROAT, LUNGS, HEART, STOMACH, LIVER.

Head, nerves, kidneys, bladder, womb, and blood affections of the urinary organs, gravel, scrofula, hematuria, catarrh, asthma, bronchitis, dyspepsia, &c.

Dr. Price's reputation has been acquired by candid, honest dealing and years of successful practice.

My practice not one of experiment, but founded on the laws of Nature, with years of experience and evidence to sustain it. It does not tear down, make sick to make well; no harsh treatment, no trifling, no flattery. We know the cause and the remedy needed; no guess work, but knowledge gained of years of experience in the treatment of Chronic diseases exclusively; no encouragement without a prospect. Cannd in our opinion, reasonable in our charges, claim not to know everything, or cure every body, but do claim to reason and command success. We invite the sick, no matter what their ailment, to call and investigate before they abandon hope, make interrogations and decide for one year or will cost nothing as consultation is free. Visits made regularly.
